Humble Beginnings

Atlanta Rising Football Club was founded in 2017 as a member of the United Soccer League (USL) Championship, the second tier of professional soccer in the United States. The club's early years were marked by both promise and adversity.

Despite limited resources and a relatively young roster, Atlanta Rising quickly emerged as a contender in the USL Championship. The team's passionate fan base, known as the "Rose City Brigade," fueled their performances, creating a vibrant and intimidating atmosphere at their home stadium.

A Breakthrough Season

In 2019, Atlanta Rising Football Club made its breakthrough. Led by a talented squad featuring players such as Josef Martínez, Franco Escobar, and Brad Guzan, the team dominated the USL Championship, winning the regular season title and claiming the Eastern Conference Championship.

The culmination of the season came in the USL Championship Final, where Atlanta Rising faced off against Louisville City FC. In a thrilling match that showcased the team's skill and determination, Atlanta Rising emerged victorious, capturing their first major trophy.

The Path to MLS

Atlanta Rising's success in the USL Championship propelled them to the cusp of Major League Soccer. In 2020, the club announced its bid to join the top flight of American soccer.

The bid faced significant challenges, including a global pandemic and financial hurdles. Undeterred, Atlanta Rising Football Club rallied its supporters and stakeholders to make their MLS dream a reality.

Arrival in the First Division

In February 2021, Atlanta Rising Football Club's dream came true. The club was officially granted a place in Major League Soccer, becoming the city's first top-flight soccer team since Atlanta United FC joined the league in 2017.

The inaugural MLS season for Atlanta Rising was both a learning experience and a testament to the club's resilience. Facing established MLS powers, Atlanta Rising competed fiercely, earning their first MLS victory against the New England Revolution in May 2021.
